Founded in 1979, Asia America MultiTechnology Association (AAMA) is Silicon Valley's largest and most established non-profit organization dedicated to the Asia American technology community. Having deep roots and a wide reach in the local community and across Pacific Rim countries, as well as a proven track record of success as a Silicon Valley-based organization, AAMA expanded into Asia by launching chapters in Beijing (2004), Shanghai (2007), Seoul (2010) and the Pearl River Delta (2012) to better serve as a bridge between Silicon Valley and Asia. Each chapter will host seminars, social gatherings or trips to promote business relationships, and will work closely with Silicon Valley headquarters to ensure maximum benefits to members.
